

NCCAOM PDA Product and Service Disclaimer

I certify that the NCCAOM PDA approved course(s) have not been written or presented for the purpose of promoting the services or selling of product(s) by the company or individual. Product(s), equipment, or services that are specific tools used during the course and/or sold by the PDA Provider must be made available to the participants free of charge. Product and service purchases by the course participant are on a voluntary basis only.

The PDA Provider may not charge a monetary fee for issuing PDA Points nor have a tiered registration system where participants pay different rates. Once the course registration fee is paid, the Provider may not add additional fees; the registration fee is all inclusive.

I further understand that the NCCAOM does not accredit or certify educational curriculum, institutions, or individuals who provide continuing educational experiences. The NCCAOM PDA Department does perform third-party screening reviews as to whether a continuing education course is acceptable when submitted by a Diplomate seeking NCCAOM recertification.
